

A Gift for Women

“The villagers duped me into going to Japan, promising me work in a Thai restaurant which never existed. “One woman confessed. Her name is Urairat Soimee who came from Thailand. But the reality was far from what she has imagined. Once there, she was put in the seemingly endless darkness, called “prostitution”. Why did she have to lead such a life in Japan? What has become of her?

Today, I am standing here to talk about hidden problems behind our society, human trafficking target for sexual exploitation, and share my opinion of how to stop tragedy from happening any more and give a light of hope to female victims.
